The Cooperative Memorial Society

Helping Albertans Plan Ahead for Peace of Mind

Preparing for the future is both a loving and responsible endeavour, and since 1966, the Cooperative Memorial Society (CMS) has been supporting Albertans in this journey. As a nonprofit organization with nearly sixty years of experience, CMS aids individuals and families in making informed end-of-life plans, lessening financial and emotional strains during difficult moments.

Why CMS Exists

The funeral industry can be daunting, especially for families navigating it during moments of grief. CMS bridges the gap by offering straightforward, affordable end-of-life plans through partnerships with locally owned funeral homes across Alberta. Our mission is rooted in compassion, integrity, and the belief that everyone deserves a dignified farewell without financial hardship.

The Value of Planning Ahead

Planning ahead can save families thousands by eliminating last-minute decisions that lead to overspending. CMS offers seven affordable and flexible funeral and cremation plans tailored to members' needs. This proactive approach not only provides financial benefits but also ensures that your wishes are honoured, reducing emotional stress for loved ones. CMS assists in clearly documenting preferences for burial, cremation, and service types.

How to Join

Becoming a member is easy: visit coopmemorial.org to apply. A one-time fee, including GST, grants you lifelong access to valuable resources and services that benefit your family when needed.

COOPERATIVE MEMORIAL SOCIETY

The Cooperative Memorial Society

Toll Free: 1 800 566 9959

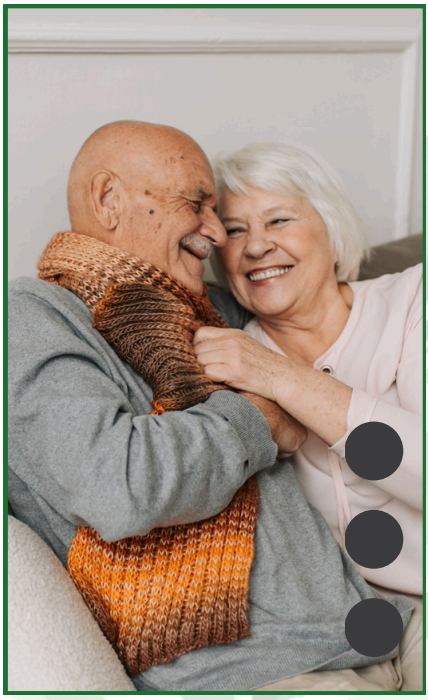

coopmemorial.org

The Cooperative Memorial Society

Helping Albertans Plan Ahead for Peace of Mind

How Membership Works

A one-time membership fee of $40 provides individuals with access to various benefits, such as discounted funeral and cremation plans that allow for pre-planning and additional savings. Members can securely store their wishes in their CMS profile, which can be accessed by our funeral partners when necessary. This guarantees that family members are not left uncertain during an already challenging time. Membership also connects you to CMS's educational resources, workshops, and community events that address topics like estate planning, wills, and advance care directives. It's not just about planning for the inevitable—it's about ensuring peace of mind for you and your loved ones.

A Community of Support

As a cooperative, our members' needs direct all our efforts. We are dedicated to promoting the significance of end-of-life planning through workshops, public presentations, and community engagement throughout Alberta. When you become a part of CMS, you're not merely utilizing services—you're joining a community that prioritizes dignity, transparency, and support.

Take the First Step Today

Joining the Cooperative Memorial Society offers significant benefits, providing families with clarity and peace of mind by allowing them to focus on memories instead of logistics. For more information about CMS, services, or events, contact admin@coopmemorial.org or 403-248-2044 to plan for the future with care and confidence.

COOPERATIVE MEMORIAL SOCIETY

The Cooperative Memorial Society

Toll Free: 1 800 566 9959

coopmemorial.org